Course Description

This course emphasis is on theories of the firm, value and price determination, and functional distribution, with the application of these theories to the problem of particular firms, industries and markets.

Course Purpose

This course satisfies the Texas Tech University core curriculum requirement in social and behavioral sciences. The objective of the social and behavioral sciences in a core curriculum is to increase the student's knowledge of how social and behavioral scientists discover, describe, and explain the behaviors and interactions among individuals, groups, institutions, events, and ideas. Such knowledge will better equip students to understand themselves and the roles they play in addressing the issues facing humanity.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

This course satisfies the university core curriculum requirement in social and behavioral sciences: "Students graduating from Texas Tech University should be able to demonstrate the ability to assess critically claims about social issues, human behavior, and diversity in human experiences. This course meets the following Texas Tech University's general student learning outcome for social and behavioral sciences in that students will be able to:

- Identify and critique alternative explanations for claims about social issues and human behavior.
- Demonstrate knowledge of the appropriate ethical methods, technologies, and data that social and behavioral scientists use to investigate the human condition.

There are four main objectives to the core curriculum requirements that this course satisfies:

- Critical Thinking Skills: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information;
- Communication Skills: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication;
- Empirical and Quantitative Skills: to include the manipulation and analysis of numerical data or observable facts resulting in informed conclusions; and
- Social Responsibility: to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional and national communities.

More specifically, for this course, students should be able to:

- Explain the concepts of demand, supply, and market equilibrium and their applications.
- Learn how to think like an economist.
- Compare and contrast various market structures and the behavior of firms
- Understand factors attributing to long-run economic growth, productivity and living standards.
- Distinguish between various market structures—from perfectly competitive markets to imperfectly competitive markets to monopoly.

Grading and Evaluation

Quizzes

Students will complete a total of 11 Chapter DSMs. However, the lowest DSM grade will be dropped. The Chapter DSMs will account for 15% of the final grade.

MyEconLab Homework

Students will take a total of 11 Chapter Quizzes. However, the lowest quiz grade will be dropped. Each quiz will have a 30-minute time limit. Quizzes will represent 15% of the final grade.

Exams

There will be 3 Midterm Exams and a cumulative Final Departmental Exam. Each exam will have a 75-minute time limit and contain multiple-choice and true/false questions. Each Midterm exam will equal 20% (60% together) of the final grade. The Final Exam will be 10% of the final grade.
